

PLEASE do NOT relax the rules regarding ownership of media outlets. It's ESSENTIAL that the most popular sources of news have diversity in ownership, so that as many different points of view as possible are available to the public, and that consolidation of news outlets does not occur to the extent that one person or group of people is regulating the opinions of the majority of the American public.